Now offering remote tutoring! More details below.

Math Tutoring

The Mathematics Department offers specialized tutoring services to help students succeed in our courses.

Taffee Tanimoto Mathematics Resource Center

The Taffee Tanimoto Mathematics Resource Center, named in honor of the founding Chair of Mathematics at UMass Boston, is a drop-in help center operated by the Department of Mathematics, serving all students enrolled in our 100 and 200-level courses. The Center offers technical assistance with the WebWork online homework platform and provides subject tutoring for most 100 and 200-level mathematics courses.

Location

The Tanimoto Center is situated in room W-3-154-30, inside the main Mathematics Department space on the third floor of Wheatley Hall, adjacent to the Venture Development Center.

For your convenience, we have posted directional signs around Wheatley Hall and within the Department to help you locate the Tanimoto Center and our study alcoves.

Working in the Tanimoto Center

The Tanimoto Center is staffed by advanced mathematics students who have excelled in their introductory courses and possess the ability to communicate mathematical concepts clearly to a non-specialist audience. If you need more information about the Tanimoto Center, please reach out to TanimotoCenter@umb.edu.

Advising Resources

All students who have completed at least fifty (50) credits should receive advising from a Mathematics Department faculty member. You can find the name of your advisor in WISER.
